

Don't pitch what they already do.

They have the listicles and the answer content. What they don't have is control over what AI says about them. Lead with questions, then that.

WHY THE LAST PITCH STALLED

"SEO, answer content, brand mentions" described their own roadmap back to them.
The gap is sentiment, not volume.

WHAT THEY ALREADY HAVE

- Press: WWD, NBC Select, Forbes Vetted, Reviewed, Tom's Guide, Medical News Today. Taylor Swift wore the Power Bra in Eras Tour rehearsals.
- AI-style blog: near-daily in Aug. "Forme vs. Tommie Copper," "Is Forme Science Legit?," "Is Posture Clothing Worth the Cost?"

19

AI visibility worldwide (35 US) on 80.1K organic visits

309 / 677

AI mentions citing forme.science itself. Thin third-party proof.

~Most

of organic looks branded. Confirm the split in Semrush before the call.

-49%

paid keywords, ~29% paid traffic. They're pulling back on Google.

THE STORY AI REPEATS

Every major review lands on the same verdict, and LLMs pull from those sources:

- Works while you wear it, posture slips once it's off
- Not worth ~$179
- FDA-registered, not FDA-cleared

Their own "worth it?" and "legit?" posts can't outrank NBC and Forbes as a source. That's the opening.

ASK THESE FIRST

- 1 Who writes the vs. posts? What's working? Are we replacing someone or adding to them?
- 2 What share of sales is Swift-driven branded demand? And what happens when it fades?
- 3 Have you asked ChatGPT if Forme is worth it? Run it live or bring a screenshot.
- 4 Why cut Google paid this year? Tells you where the budget went.
- 5 Does "stops working when you take it off" hurt returns?
- 6 What does a win look like in 6 months? New customers, repeat, men's line, international.

THEN POSITION AROUND WHAT THEY AREN'T DOING

01 · SENTIMENT

Rewrite the review story

Expert third-party content from PTs, chiros and sports med that answers "does it work long-term?" with their proprioception research.

02 · DEMAND

Win non-branded search

Condition and use-case pages: desk workers, golfers, pregnancy, back pain, men. Growth that doesn't depend on a celebrity spike.

03 · MARKETS

Close the intl gap

AI visibility is 29 in Canada and 23 in Australia vs 35 in the US. Raise it only if they ship there.

SAY IT FIRST

Compliance. FDA-registered is not FDA-cleared. Every piece we pitch avoids treatment claims. Bring it up before they do and we look like the safer agency.

WHO YOU'RE TALKING TO

- Dr. Stephen Liu, founder/CEO. Physician, 25+ yrs. Talks proprioception and muscle memory. Respects questions over pitches.
- Seiji Liu, co-founder/COO. Confirm who's on the call.

THE COMPANY

- Founded 2018, Lakewood Ranch FL. Bootstrapped, no outside funding.
- #297 on the 2025 Inc. 5000. DTC only, $138 to $399, women's and men's.
- One source says $750K revenue. Doesn't fit the Inc. rank, so don't quote it.